The committee having met the committee on commerce, and the committee of the brewery on the site of the brewery extension, and after examining the ground and the plans presented at all points, it was suggested that the city exchange a portion of the land now owned by the city for the site now owned by the brewery, and the representatives of the brewery were requested to accept the exchange with this as a base, and your committee is now awaiting such suggestion."

MAKE PEACE BETWEEN
BREWERY AND KICKERS

Residents of Saskatchewan Avenue Breeding District and Aldermen and Aldermen Building—New Plan Proposed.

The Strathearn Brewing Co. Ltd. are making good progress with the extension between their present brewery and the brew of the hill just north.

The building is planned to be 140 feet long, one story above the level of Saskatchewan Avenue, three stories below, three stories are to be used for storage of materials, and the remaining for bottling and shipping. The fluid can be transported to the upper storey, from which it can be packed conveniently into barrels or kegs, and sent down the level of the street.

At the top of the building will be a large arched entrance, through which the front will be paved. A hedge high enough to hide the view of the building will be planted along the street line.

The front of the building will be 40 feet wide, and the entrance 12 feet wide, leaving a space of 28 feet for the plan of the brewery people. But a conference was held between the brewing company and the residents of Saskatchewan Avenue, who object to the proposed building.

SUGGEST NEW SITE FOR INDUSTRY.

The local committee of the city council were given permission to make a peace-making and an olive branch.

THE POORER CLASSES IN GERMANY LIVING ON HORSE AND CAT MEAT

Famine Has Reached Point Where Serious Rioting Now Is Feared.

Berlin, Sept. 12.—Germany's usual famine has reached a state where the government has been compelled to issue strict rationing, and there is urgent fear of some serious popular disturbances. The markets in Silesia, the chief grain-growing district, are scenes of violent combats between the farmers and buyers, the poorer classes, especially the women, being the chief sufferers. The government refuses to permit the cheapening of meat, in order to give preference to the grain, and the agrarian difficulties with estates.

The popular wrath is vented, even upon old farmers, who sold their land to the estates, and the economic distress from high prices and the consequent inability to obtain cheap imported foodstuffs for their cattle is as most years.

Women Starve Markets.

In some Sicilian towns the market are crowded by gangs of women who buy up all the foodstuffs and provisions. They smashed up thousands of dollars worth of fresh eggs and other foodstuffs, and then sold them at exorbitant prices. When a few peasants tried to interfere, the women seized them and beat them up, then dumped them in ponds or plunged them head downward in barrels of eggs. Finally the police had to be called in to restore order in the market places. At Wednesday's markets the stalls in all the principal towns were surrounded by one policeman to each stall.

Horses and Cat For Food.

Over six thousand horses were killed in Berlin last week, and 1,000 inspectors during the first six months of the year in Berlin alone.

Meatless diets are dangerous, especially after their cats which this year are being killed for food instead of meat.

Trades unions in several of the mining districts of Westphalia have threatened to strike if the miners and the butchers in the poorer quarters

Lesson in Scientific Complexion Renewing

(From the Family Physician.)

Everyone has a beautiful skin under normal conditions, and it is important that in mind and it will be easier to keep it that way. Nature is always striving to keep the top soil in the body, and the skin is the largest muscle in size. In abnormal conditions the skin becomes dry and parched, and the pores are not shed as rapidly as in robust youth. The longer they remain the more soiled they become, because that's the immediate cause of a bad complexion.

It has been discovered that ordinary soap does not remove the dirt, and that water will absorb these worn-out particles.

The absorption, while hastening the removal of dirt, is not enough to cause an inconvenience in the skin, but it is not enough to complete the task.

The fresh, healthy, useful soaps are those that are carefully prepared with your complexion should get an excellent bath.

The water is the night, the oil the treatment.

Use cold cream, washing it off mornings.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1912.

PETERING OUT.

Miss Christobel Pankhurst, who eluded the London police when her mother was sent to jail for criminal conspiracy, has made her appearance in Paris and intends to make it the headquarters for her campaign against law and order in Great Britain. Having exiled herself from the country, Christobel can no longer with reason ask the privilege of voting in its elections. Whether her widow-snapping followers will continue to "follow" a leader who declines to expose herself to the risk she endures them to encounter remains to be seen. From this distance the epidemic of feminine rowdism seems to have well left its force.

SIGNIFICANT.

The Montreal Gazette notes that in Great Britain for one person who is deeply concerned about war thousands are manifesting more concern in the results of ericked matches, horse races, and other sporting events. Observing which, the Gazette proceeds to tell some excitable journalists that they are not making as deep an impression upon public opinion as they think they are. Somehow the Gazette does not seem to enthuse over the naval projects of its contemporaries worth anything. Though it does not openly assail these it lets drop once in a while a remark which shows that it is not at all excited over the "German menace," nor wildly anxious to loss its valuable into the war chest. The fact may be significant, because attitude of the Gazette is more often than not the attitude which its party finally comes to adopt. It would not be the strangest thing to record if the Ministers who have side-tracked naval participation for a year decided to side-track it indefinitely.

REFORMATIVE PROPOSALS.

At the convention of Alberta Municipalities, Mayor Armstrong introduced a resolution asking the Provincial Government to establish a reformatory for unfortunate women, similar to the Mercer institute maintained by the Province of Ontario. Something of the kind seems to be necessary.

Fining has proven its uselessness as a corrective, and sending the unfortunate to jail is more likely to make her worse than better.

What is needed is a place where such people may be sent and made to earn an honest living at some kind of useful work. The change should do them good. Mayor Armstrong also advocated the establishment of industrial farms to which men convicted of frequent drunkenness, vagrancy, and of other minor offences might be sent for a time, to the mutual benefit of themselves and the community. This is a matter which the citizens might very well look after themselves. Edmonton and each of the large cities of the provinces will sooner or later have to provide a sewage farm where the residue from the septic tanks may be worked into the soil and so disposed of. The offenders might be set to cultivate these farms. If they did not find the job attractive at the first visit they would likely mend their ways lest they would be sent back again.

OPPOSED TO WIDER MARKETS AND TO BRITISH TRADE.

The Journal says: "The Bulletin argues at great length that it was perfectly proper to refer to American reciprocity and British trade preference in the civic address to the Duke of Connaught." That is not a fact. The Bulletin did not justify His Worship in making any reference to reciprocity—"American" or other. No reference to reciprocity was made in the address. The reference in the address was to the need of wider markets and Western products leaving it to the Government to open the markets and to devise the means of gaining access to them. It surely was a reasonable assumption on the part of the Bulletin that nobody would question the advantage to the Western farmer and to the West generally for the products of the country, and that the present Government came into power not as the enemies of wider markets generally, but as opposed to the means offered for gaining access to the United States' markets. In that, however, he was mistaken, and the Winnipeg Telegram and the Edmonton Journal have both put their party on record as opposed, not to the late reciprocity agreement only but to wider markets in general, and as considering it "offensive" on the part of anyone to allege that wider markets are needed or would be beneficial. Had approval been expressed in the civic address of the reciprocal agreement negotiated between the two Dominion and the United States, such a formula would undoubtedly have found out of place, because that agreement was an issue between the two political parties in this country. The preference to the British trade preference cannot be condemned on that ground, because the Government had not as yet taken a position on that question in opposition to the Liberals.

Mr. Lager announced that he would meet Col. Cartarius with verve.

Sheriff Robertson was the first witness. He gave evidence that the petition had been filed in his office last July 2 and he had served copy on Attorney General Clegg himself. Mr. Clegg said: "He has elicited the fact that the sheriff had not been present when the document was filed, and he had late found them in the house."

Filing of Petition.

The ruling given by Justice Scott is to the effect that the party of provincial election act was not a sufficient cause to prevent the petitioners as to ridiculous name two years ago. In the summing up the respondent said:

AROUND THE CITY

LOCALS.

The Sunday schools of the First Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian churches of the city will hold a picnic at the East End park next Sunday.

The Young People of First Presbyterian church will resume their meetings this evening with a social evening. Refreshments will be served and refreshments served.

CAPTIVE ON TRESTLE WORK. — The G. T. P. train from the west was held up by a herd of cattle getting on at a trestle west of Edmonton. A number of men were sent after the cattle and were injured, but they had time to shoot at least one before it was shot, as a result of being run into by the train.

SALE OF HORSES.

The various breeds of horses in the city last week disclosed the fact that while animals of the heavier breeds are still popular, there is a demand for team work in the country and for light horses. The lighter classes were in very poor demand; in many cases the bidding was so low that the colts were withdrawn from sale.

X. M. C. A. IN CHINA AND JAPAN. — The new President Sun Yat Sen, of the new republic of China, turned over his entire salary to the Chinese Yuan was a red letter day for the association. After this historical position was taken, Dr. Frank Leonard, Premier Tang and a number of the members of the national assembly, met at the home of the Chinese Consul to have a luncheon. Secretary Robertson on a personal scientific investigation, ate an excellent dinner and then voted for the Chinese cause. The amount of public land, and an athletic field of twenty acres, costing $7,000 worth of sports material, were given to Sun and Premier Tang gave their practical endorsement to the work by the Chinese. A contribution, worth them, $1,000 toward the Nanking association. To China this means a sum equivalent to $10,000. The money given in Japan when the Mikado gave $5,000 to association work.

On the first day he ever set to the Christian work in Japan was $500 voluntarily offered by a young man who had been born and reared in a small conference site. Three association buildings in Japan were erected in less than two weeks, the most important of which was the building for the Chinese students. This is the second largest student centre in the world, and this building will be the centre, religiously, for those.

One hundred and twenty-four men have been called by the Japanese government to serve in the army. Most of them from America to teach in the government schools. The Japanese, who are now twelve, are now under appointment from America, and will not return. There is no money available for the education on the government education of Japan.

Another remarkable thing is the future of these teachers. Eighteen of the twenty-four men who were called were never have eaten at home and nine have eaten the amoebic food.

Several Chinese students who had been working in the association work in Japan returned to Yunnan province and started a school with the help of foreign help. They began with a two weeks' series of religious meetings, with an average attendance of over 1,000 to the meeting.

SAYS MUCH LIQUOR IS TAKEN TO NORTH

J. H. Russell, speaking before the Temperance and Moral Reform League, makes strong statements With Reference to Bootlegging Practices in Restricted District.

At this lecture under the auspices of the Temperance and Moral Reform League, the principal subject discussed was liquor in the north. The chief speaker of the day was Mr. J. H. Russell, and the audience was largely with him. He rendered some service by Miss Jackson. Mr. Leonard was invited to speak, but he had to be shot, as a result of a belief run into by the train.
